CDC members provided feedback on the following:

- Enjoyed the speaker and the awareness it brought to them regarding diversities in the work place.
- Like interacting with the students and getting their feedback. They find it very insightful.
- Regarding future meetings, the group suggested a campus tour be scheduled after lunch. This will give the group an opportunity to visit labs and centers in their environment. They requested that Chancellor Schrader attend future meetings to give a follow-up on the Strategic Planning process. They would be interested in hearing from S&T Registrar Laura Stoll on how S&T data is being used for student success and recruiting freshman.
- Enjoyed the luncheon and having the opportunity to connect with the student leaders. They would like to know students thoughts on receiving information from a company via social media. How do they feel about social media in general? What type of technologies are they using? Do the students understand the opportunity of having lunch with this group and getting an employer’s perspective? What draws student into co-op? What is the faculty perspective of students doing co-op?
- The group is interested in learning ways to break through name recognition. Ways to target audience and to get peer perspective. Recommended members contact Angela Perkins, Director for Student Life at angelap@mst.edu to get connected with student group presidents.
- Members would like to participate in resume reviews and other avenues as ways to connect with students.
- Fall meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, September 11, 2013, and the 2014 spring date is Thursday, March 6, 2014.
