

MISSOURI S&T

CDC | CORPORATE DEVELOPMENT COUNCIL

Engaging alumni and employers to prepare S&T students for success in the corporate world.

WHAT IS CDC?

CDC is a group of key industry professionals interested in engaging and partnering with Missouri S&T.

MEMBERSHIP BENEFITS:

- Increase your company's visibility and reputation on campus.
- Engage directly with students.
- Provide valuable feedback on program initiatives aimed at preparing career-ready graduates.
- Positively influence student's personal and professional development.
- Receive exclusive updates and information about engagement opportunities throughout the year.

CDC partner companies contribute $600 annually to fund CDC and student events and initiatives.

HOW TO BECOME A MEMBER

CDC member companies are invited to send one or two representatives to participate in bi-annual campus meetings. To become a member and/or for more information contact:

Dr. Debra Robinson
Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs

Dr. Edna Grover-Bisker
Assistant Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs

Sara Lindeman
Manager, Student Support Services

CDC@mst.edu
573-341-6154

Office of the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs

stuaff.mst.edu/officeofthevicechancellor/cdc